Toastmasters is a safe and instructive environment to develop your speaking and leadership skills. When you must give a presentation, do you worry about embarrassing yourself in front of the audience?

In Toastmasters, and Vikings in particular, that's not possible. Our meetings offer a safe environment to fail - and learn from the experience.

Vikings Meetings Consist of Three Parts:

Speeches

During this portion of the meeting, several members present speeches based on projects in the various educational manuals. There will be lots of applause!

Evaluations

Each prepared speech is verbally evaluated by a fellow member in a constructive and encouraging manner, using given evaluation criteria.

Table Topics

In this segment, members have an opportunity to speak up and present one to three minute impromptu talks in response to a question. This teaches the “quick thinking” skills so valuable in settings such as job interviews.

Join Us On October 6 and Enjoy!
